Slack Top is a small hamlet situated at over 900ft. in the central Pennines, close to the popular tourist spots of Hebden Bridge and Heptonstall. Our nursery and show gardens overlook the picturesque Hardcastle Crags (National Trust) with views to the distant moors on the Yorkshire/Lancashire border. All plants for sale are grown here on the nursery. The majority of the plants listed will be available during 2008, though we shall inevitably sell out of several lines during the season, and several lines will not be ready for sale early in the year. Species of which we hold very small stocks are not listed, so please ask if you have any special requests. A warm welcome and friendly service awaits all visitors.

OPENING TIMES:

Friday, Saturday and Sunday 10.00am until 5.00pm, and Bank Holiday Mondays.

1 March to 30 September 2008 inclusive.

New visitors to the nursery can find us by taking the road for Heptonstall from Hebden Bridge. The nursery is situated on the right, about three-quarters of a mile beyond Heptonstall (look for the signs).

DIRECTIONS

Slack Top is approximately 2 miles up the hill from the centre of Hebden Bridge. The map is not to scale.

Travelling from Halifax, there is no right turn up the hill at the Slack traffic lights so please use the turning circle.

Travelling from Todmorden, the road to the nursery begins at the traffic lights just beyond the turning circle – continue up the hill for about 1.5 miles, (ignore left fork to Heptonstall), past the row of cottages at Slack Bottom, and ahead you'll see the nursery on the right just next to the bus shelter.

For GPS systems, vistors have suggested entering Heptonstall rather than Hebden Bridge.
